Oompah This!

Can't make it to Epcot Center this summer? How about bringing a bit of Disney to you! Las Vegas has the unique opportunity to see, hear and experience one of Epcot's premier performers—Terry Cavanagh along with his Alpine Express band. This distinctive band will be featured at the Las Vegas Hofbrauhaus from June 3rd through July 15th.

From the most charming Alpine yodeling to your favorite foot-stomping polkas, Cavanagh and his group offer Old World charm in a spirited one-of-a-kind style that is sure to delight and entertain audiences of all ages. Alpine Express engages it's audience in an energetic evening of toe-tapping dances and lively interaction and fun.

When asked how Alpine Express is different than other groups that perform similar music, Cavanagh explained: "Because we do it all. We're fun; we have great dance and listening music; and an upbeat show with lots of audience interaction. We capture the true spirit of a Bavarian Oktoberfest and bring it directly to you!" Performing with the accordion, keyboards, Alphorn, tuned cowbells, and other traditional folk instruments, he has been captivating audiences around the world for over two decades.

Cavanagh formed Alpine Express in 1996 after performing for five years at the Biergarten Show at Disney's Epcot Center in Orlando. He has made numerous stage and television appearances on four continents, and performs at major festivals around the country. "I love to make people happy. Our Oktoberfest show is charming and wholesome entertainment that keeps a great tradition alive and gets people involved in the spirit of good fun and fellowship," he said.

Cavanagh lives in New Braunfels, TX. He and Alpine Express tour the country throughout the year. For concert dates and information, contact Terry Cavanagh at 830-606-0011 or see www.terrycavanagh.com.
